

Heightened Scrutiny

Pursuant to requirements of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) Home and Community-Based Services (HCBS) Final Rule, the Texas Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC) plans to submit a list of certain Medicaid settings to CMS for heightened scrutiny review, as described in 42 Code of Federal Regulations \(C.F.R.\) §441.301\(c\)\(5\)\(v\), to demonstrate that the settings are eligible for the delivery of HCBS.

This document provides a numbered list of settings that will be submitted to CMS, information about the heightened scrutiny process, a description of how HHSC identified settings subject to heightened scrutiny, and strategies to ensure the identified settings achieve compliance with the HCBS Final Rule by March 17, 2023.

The public can provide comments on the list of settings identified for heightened scrutiny until October 24, 2021. HHSC plans to submit the list of settings to CMS by October 31, 2021. HHSC will review and consider public comments received on the list before submitting it to CMS. HHSC will amend the list in response to comments, as appropriate.

Please find instructions for submitting public comment on page 7 of this document. The list of settings begins on page 8. Additional information about the HCBS Final Rule, the heightened scrutiny process, and HHSC's statewide transition plan is available on the HHSC website.

Overview of Heightened Scrutiny Process

A primary purpose of the HCBS Final Rule is to ensure people get Medicaid HCBS in settings that are integrated in the community. CMS presumes that certain settings are not home and community-based because they have institutional or isolating qualities. However, the heightened scrutiny process allows states to demonstrate that settings can overcome this institutional presumption. These settings must go through a heightened scrutiny review by CMS.

CMS presumes the following types of settings have institutional or isolating qualities:

- Prong 1 settings: Located in a hospital, nursing facility, intermediate care facility for individuals with an intellectual disability or related condition (ICF/IID) or institution for mental disease (IMD).
- Prong 2 settings: Located adjacent to a public hospital, nursing facility, ICF/IID or IMD.
- Prong 3 settings: Have the effect of isolating people from the broader community of people who do not receive HCBS.

CMS requires states to identify settings that meet the criteria above and submit to CMS a list of settings that the state believes can overcome the institutional or isolating presumption. The list must include:

- whether the setting is a Prong 1, Prong 2, or Prong 3 setting;
- a summary of how each setting has or will overcome the institutional or isolating presumption; and
- the state’s plan for remediation to ensure compliance with the HCBS Final Rule by March 17, 2023.

CMS will use the list provided by the state to select a random sample of settings to go through the heightened scrutiny review process.

Strategies Used to Identify Presumptively Institutional and Isolating Settings

To identify presumptively institutional and isolating settings, HHSC conducted an internal systemic policy assessment; external assessments of Medicaid HCBS providers, people receiving HCBS and their families, and service coordinators and case managers; and a geographic analysis of certain Medicaid HCBS settings. Based on results of the internal and external assessments, HHSC determined that all Medicaid HCBS settings, except day habilitation settings (see additional information below), currently do or can comply with the HCBS Final Rule by March 17, 2023.

The results of the internal systemic policy assessment, external assessments, and geographic analysis identified assisted living facilities (ALFs) participating in the STAR+PLUS HCBS program as settings with institutional or isolating qualities. Therefore, these settings must undergo the heightened scrutiny process required by CMS.

Assisted Living Facility (ALF) Settings in STAR+PLUS HCBS

To determine which ALF settings must be submitted for heightened scrutiny, HHSC relied on the results of its internal systemic policy assessment, as well as provider and participant survey data collected and analyzed by the Texas External Quality Review Organization (EQRO). HHSC also conducted a geographic analysis to support its determinations for the prongs under which each STAR+PLUS ALF will be submitted for heightened scrutiny.

The EQRO survey results indicate that nearly all STAR+PLUS ALF settings have isolating qualities that require site-specific remediation. Additionally, both the EQRO survey results and HHSC's internal systemic policy assessment results indicate that policy barriers currently prevent all ALFs from fully complying with the HCBS Final Rule.

The results of the internal systemic policy assessment and external assessments indicate that all STAR+PLUS ALF settings can overcome the institutional or isolating presumption and comply with the HCBS Final Rule by March 17, 2023, through policy changes and site-specific remediation. Therefore, HHSC plans to submit all STAR+PLUS ALFs for heightened scrutiny.

Considering all ALFs for heightened scrutiny will allow HHSC and STAR+PLUS managed care organizations (MCOs), in collaboration with each ALF setting, to confirm the ALF's compliance status and oversee any necessary remediation prior to the deadline for compliance with the HCBS Final Rule.

EQRO Survey and Evaluation

The EQRO evaluation focused on a sample of 164 settings that participate in the STAR+PLUS HCBS program, combining findings from: (1) resident surveys conducted by the EQRO in 2016 of STAR+PLUS members living in ALF settings; and (2) self-assessment provider surveys administered by HHSC in 2016 of ALF providers. The EQRO developed an evaluation framework using 10 requirements based on the HCBS Final Rule, as described in 42 C.F.R §441.301. Within these requirements, the EQRO identified a total of 33 components for evaluation, with all components weighted equally within the requirement under which they are listed.

Across all requirements, STAR+PLUS ALF settings were classified as not currently compliant with the HCBS Final Rule. This finding is based largely on uniform non-compliance of all settings with the Community Integration and Access requirement. Low compliance was observed for multiple components within this requirement including access, integration, and engagement in the community.

Low rates of compliance for the Activities and Food requirement were also observed. This requirement includes the resident's freedom to choose when to get up from or go to bed, when to exercise, when to watch television or listen to the radio, and when to eat meals. However, nearly all settings that did not comply with the Activities and Food requirement were considered capable of making modifications needed to improve compliance.

In summary, the findings from this evaluation suggest that STAR+PLUS ALF settings should continue to implement structural and process improvements to meet full compliance with the HCBS Final Rule requirements.

Settings previously identified as presumptively institutional

CMS guidance indicates that if a state initially determined a setting had the effect of isolating individuals and that setting implemented remediation to comply with the HCBS Final Rule by July 1, 2021, there is no need to submit information on that setting to CMS for heightened scrutiny review.¹ Therefore, HHSC will not submit any settings that completed remediation before July 1, 2021, after being previously identified as presumptively institutional.

STAR+PLUS ALF settings considered for heightened scrutiny review have not yet achieved full compliance with the HCBS Final Rule because policy changes necessary to support compliance have not yet been completed. HHSC anticipates that all necessary policy changes will be effective by September 2022.

Strategies to overcome institutional presumption

To determine whether a setting overcomes the presumption that it is an institutional setting, HHSC will require settings to provide evidence that the setting has, or will have by the compliance deadline of March 17, 2023, certain structures and characteristics as outlined below.

Prong 1 and Prong 2 Settings

Settings categorized in Prongs 1 and 2 will be required to provide evidence that the setting has, or will have by the compliance deadline, the following structures in place to differentiate the ALF setting from the co-located or adjacent institution(s):

- Limited connectedness between the setting and co-located or adjacent institution, including administrative or financial connectedness;
- To the extent that any institution staff are assigned to support HCBS staff or provide services to Medicaid HCBS recipients, institution staff meet same provider qualifications or training as HCBS staff;
- Participants do not have to rely primarily on transportation or other services provided by the institution; and
- HCBS services are provided in a space that is distinct from the space where institutional services are provided.

All Prongs

Settings categorized in Prongs 1, 2 and 3 will be required to provide evidence that the setting has, or will have by the compliance deadline, all HCBS characteristics described in the regulations,² including:

- The setting provides community engagement opportunities and experiences for participants;
- Each person residing in the setting has a written lease or residency agreement in place that provides protections from eviction and processes for appeals;
- Each person has privacy in their living unit, including a lockable door;
- The setting ensures that if a person shares a bedroom with another person, it is with a roommate of their choice;
- The setting provides people with the freedom to furnish and decorate their bedroom/living unit;
- The setting provides people the freedom and support to control their daily schedules, including access to food at any time;
- The setting allows participants to have visitors at any time;
- The setting provides opportunities for participants to seek employment in competitive, integrated settings;
- The setting is physically accessible;
- The setting supports the participant's control of personal resources;
- The setting ensures the participant's dignity and respect;
- The setting ensures the participant's freedom from coercion and restraint; and
- The setting optimizes the participant's individual initiative, autonomy and independence in making life choices.

Oversight of Remediation Activities

Upon completion of assessments for compliance with the requirements of the HCBS Final Rule, for settings which require remediation, HHSC will work with MCOs and providers to develop strategies for achieving full compliance with the rule by March 17, 2023. Detailed, site-specific remediation activities will be included in forthcoming evidence packets for each setting. In accordance with HHSC Medicaid managed care contracts, MCOs will be the primary entity responsible for overseeing remediation of their contracted settings.

² Any necessary restrictions to these characteristics for an individual must be identified and documented in the individual's person-centered service plan.

Settings that cannot overcome institutional or isolating presumption

Day habilitation

Day habilitation is a service in the Home and Community-based Services (HCS), Texas Home Living (TxHmL), and the Deaf Blind with Multiple Disabilities (DBMD) Medicaid waiver programs serving people with intellectual or developmental disabilities (IDD). People go in person to a day habilitation setting during the day and receive supports to acquire, retain, or improve the self-help, socialization, and adaptive skills necessary to live successfully in home and community-based settings. Day habilitation is currently offered in a congregate setting, generally without supports for community integration or person-centered activities. HHSC determined that day habilitation settings are non-compliant and cannot comply with the regulations by the compliance deadline of March 17, 2023 because the settings do not provide opportunities for people to interact in the community, participants typically spend time only with other people with disabilities, and people do not usually leave the site during the day. Therefore, HHSC will replace day habilitation with a new service called Individualized Skills and Socialization (ISS) prior to March 17, 2023.

ISS will include an on-site (center-based) component and an off-site (community-based) component. A key element of ISS is lower staff ratios to allow staff to provide more individual attention to program participants both on-site and off-site. Lower staff ratios also permit the development of more personalized habilitative activities and support a participant's initiative, autonomy, and independence in making life choices (as required by 42 CFR 441.301\(c\)\(4\)\(iv\)). To align with the federal regulations for person-centered planning, choice, and autonomy related to daily activities and social interactions, on-site ISS will focus on achieving outcomes identified in person-centered plans to a much greater degree than in day habilitation. Group activities will be reduced, with the focus instead on person-centered activities related to skill development and achieving greater independence, socialization, community participation, or volunteer or employment goals.

Applying CMS feedback following heightened scrutiny review

After receiving feedback from CMS on specific settings selected in the heightened scrutiny sample, HHSC will collaborate with STAR+PLUS MCOs to ensure that additional remediation strategies identified by CMS will be applied to all settings that require remediation for the same or similar characteristics.

Instructions for submitting public comment

HHSC invites members of the public, including people receiving services and their families, providers, and other stakeholders to submit comments on the proposed heightened scrutiny list below. HHSC will review and consider public comments received on the list before submitting it to CMS. HHSC will amend the list in response to comments, as appropriate.

Written comments, requests to review comments or both may be sent by U.S. mail, overnight mail, special delivery mail, hand delivery, fax, or email. All comments must be received by HHSC by 11:59pm on October 24, 2021.
